OUR STORY

The history of Microplane®: From the workshop to the kitchen...

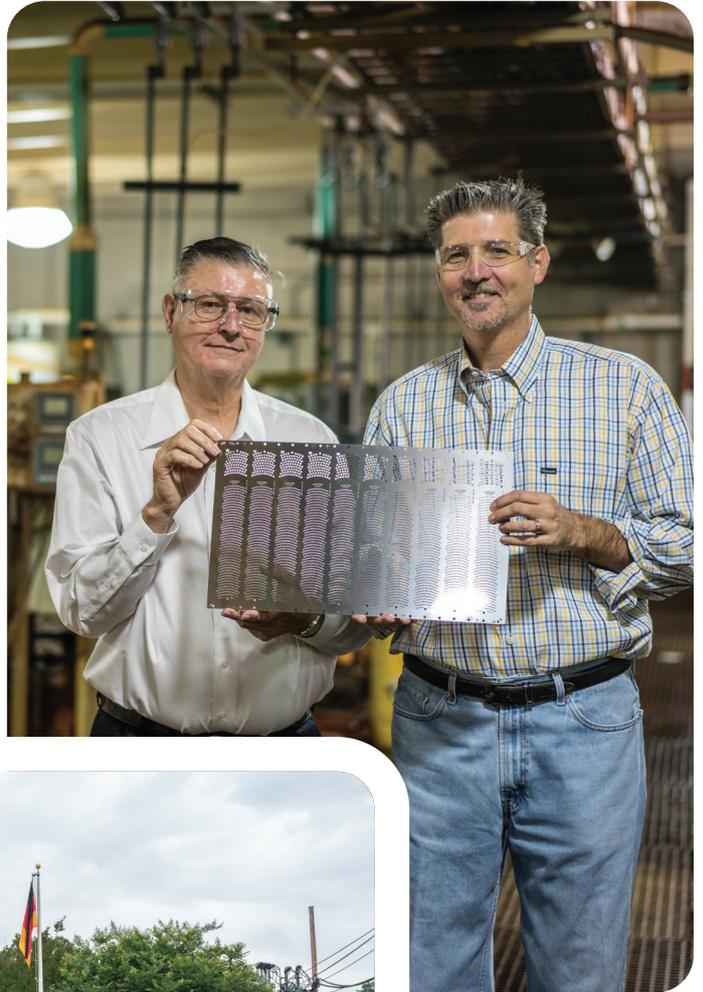

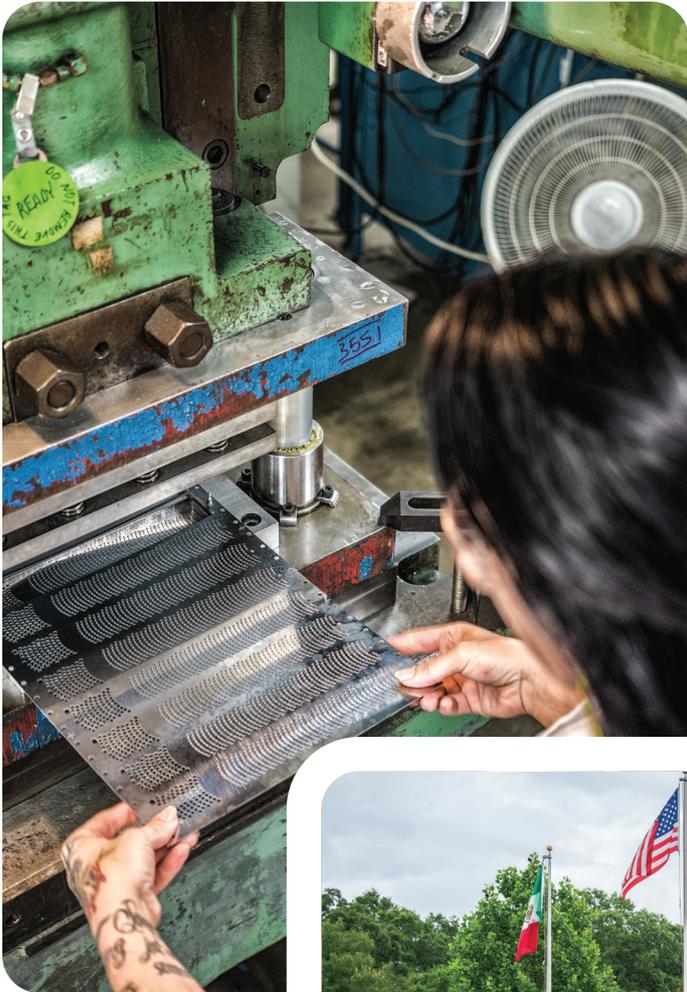

By now, cooking aficionados worldwide are familiar with the story: The big moment came in 1994, when a Canadian housewife was making an orange cake. Out of frustration that her grater was tearing and shredding, she commandeered one of her husband's favorite woodworking tools from his workshop. The blade slid effortlessly across the orange and the zest fell from its surface like snowflakes. The discovery laid the foundation for the creation of Microplane® kitchen graters and an entire line of revolutionary graters was born.

Globally recognized, Microplane® is the pioneer manufacturer to apply photo-etching technology to graters, an innovative process specifically designed to create ultra-sharp cutting edges.

Made in the USA, the tiny teeth behave like extremely sharp knives to cut ingredients with precision rather than tearing or shredding like most stamped graters. The blade ensures that food does not stick or block, but instead gently slides along the cutting surface to produce perfect results every time.

50 years on and Microplane® is now the preferred grater of choice for professional chefs and cooking enthusiasts worldwide.

OUR COMPANY

OUR COMPANY

Based in Russellville, Arkansas, Microplane® - a division of Grace Manufacturing Inc., - is a premier global brand, renowned for engineering exceptionally sharp and effective culinary tools.

It all started in 1967, when Chris Grace's (current CEO), grandfather Louis and father Richard opened their business in Michigan and then moved to Arkansas in 1976. The first product they made was a small component for computer printers. After the printer business started to change to laser printers in the early 1990's, they had to think outside the box and come up with a new product.

The company started to produce and specialize in sharp teeth for woodworking tools. In 1994, with a stroke of good fortune, a woodworking catalog in Toronto, Canada started marketing our Microplane® woodworking tools as food graters in their catalog and they became successful.

At the time, many thought it was crazy to take a woodworking tool and market it as a food grater. However, by the late 1990's famous TV Chefs like Martha Stewart and Julia Child had purchased Microplane® products. Then an article was printed in the "New York Times" food section about the woodworking tool that found its way into the kitchen, the business took off and the rest as they say is history...

Chris Grace joined the company in 2002 and in 2004 started to expand in Europe.

With over 50 years' experience of photochemical manufacturing, with North American and European operations, a worldwide distribution and a Mexico factory, the family-owned company currently owns numerous process and design patents and designs and crafts successfully over 400 excellent products for its Microplane® kitchen, woodworking, and personal care divisions.

Applying the most advanced technology and state-of-the-art engineering, Microplane® graters have revolutionized the way chefs and home cooks grate and zest a wide range of ingredients for flavorful, gourmet style cooking and baking.

Microplane® graters have distinguished themselves from other graters by using an original chemical process, perfected in over 50 years' experience, to create long-lasting, ultra-sharp cutting edges.

How does photo-etching work?

Microplane® puts a photosensitive resist film onto first-rate stainless steel sheets to mask and protect certain areas. Then, a photographic image of the blade is exposed on the film that shows the exact shape and size of the teeth. A special solution is sprayed on the sheets and dissolves the exposed parts that were left unprotected by the resist to form Microplane's® perfectly shaped and ultra-sharp cutting edges.

Once the edge is formed, timing is crucial as the etching bath continues to attack the weakest point (the cutting edge). This is where our signature "Single Sided" etching has a tremendous advantage.

In the final manufacturing process, the teeth are pushed up to create a perfect cutting angle in which one can grate a variety of foods effortlessly.

Unlike stamped graters or double-sided etched graters, Microplane® single sided etched, ultra-sharp teeth, behave like extremely sharp knives to cut ingredients with precision rather than tearing or shredding. The blade ensures that food does not stick or block, but instead without much pressure and any effort, gently slides along the cutting surface to produce perfect results every time.

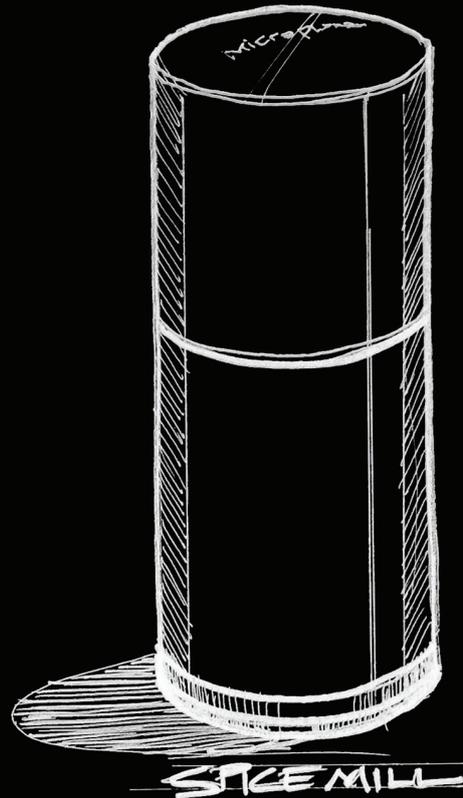

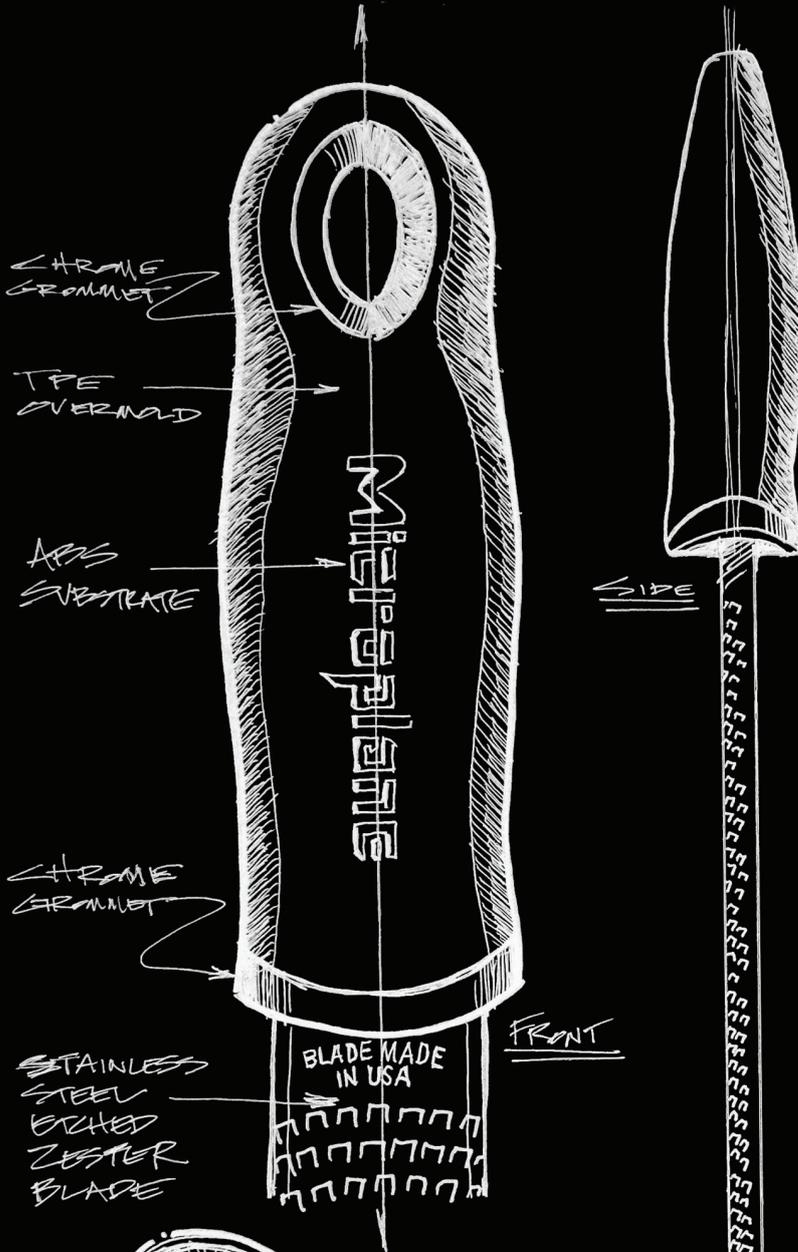

EXPERIENCE & QUALITY

Our experience and expertise in photo-etching manufacturing over the last 50 years has earned Microplane® the finest reputation in the industry. Microplane® has highly trained personnel and constantly strives to improve processes, exploring new technologies and production techniques.

A large part of our success is due to our employees, who stand behind and operate the machines to ensure an optimal process flow every day.

In addition, Microplane® only uses the highest quality stainless steel for making our etched graters. While other companies claim to use surgical stainless steel, Microplane® actually uses the same premium steel that we use for our medical supplies division. In addition to using the highest quality stainless steel, we only use "half to full hard" steel vs softer steel. Whilst stainless steel is more expensive and takes longer to etch, it results in longer-lasting, superior quality edges.

BLADE GUIDE

Microplane® graters provide professional and home cooks with a wide variety of superior blade styles. The blade styles vary from very fine to extra coarse to satisfy every cooking requirement. Every blade style can be used on a variety of foods. It is simply a matter of choice, depending on which grating result is desired. The texture and aroma of the food will change depending on the different blade style creating a different grating result. One person may prefer the cheese fine, whilst another rather coarse. It is really just a matter of individual taste.

Whatever the need though, a Microplane® Grater makes the kitchen task effortless, efficient and a pleasure to work with.

ZESTER BLADE

Our famous Zester Blade Style grates very fine, producing a soft, ultra- fluffy grating result. It is ideal for everything that you want to have finely grated and full of flavor.

SPICE BLADE

The Spice blade is our smallest blade style and it creates a super fine powder-like grating result.

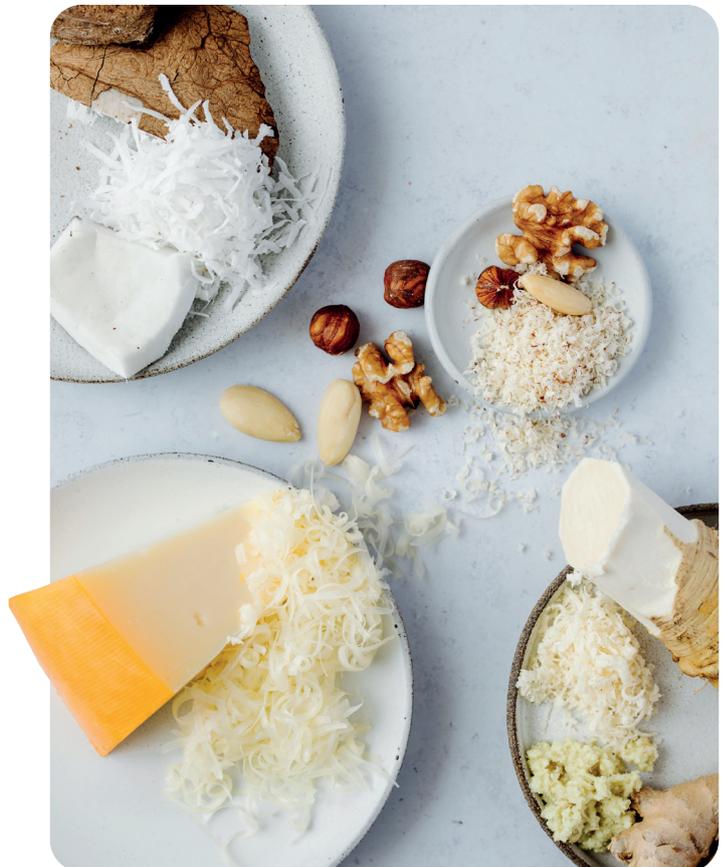

FINE BLADE

The Fine blade produces a very delicate, fine texture. A fine cut also produces a more intense flavor on a dish or directly on the taste buds due to its super-fine and rich nature. The more moist foods like ginger, cloves or chili produce a puree-like texture.

COARSE BLADE

The Coarse blade creates small strands of grated food that are slightly coarser than that of the fine blade.

ULTRA COARSE BLADE

This blade creates large strands of ingredients that are ideal when you want to highlight the taste of an individual ingredient or if you need bigger amounts of grated foods.

RIBBON BLADE

The Ribbon blade is designed to grate in both directions allowing a natural back and forth movement. The Ribbon Blade Style creates medium thin-bridge 'strips'- a similar texture to the shaver just a bit finer and thinner.

LARGE SHAVER

Create visually appealing dishes by adding beautiful shaved pieces of food. The Large Shaver blade creates wide but extremely fine shavings. The beautiful shavings not only make a visually stunning impression but also create an individual and intense texture of flavor.

EXTRA COARSE BLADE

The Extra Coarse blade creates large strands of grated food that are very similar to 'julienne-strips' but just a bit thicker and wider. When you want to highlight the taste of an individual ingredient, this would be the ideal blade style.

CARE & HANDLING TIPS

To guarantee a long life for your blades and to have a safe, efficient and fun grating experience, we have put together some care and handling tips for your consideration.

GRATING WITH MINIMAL EFFORT

- Due to the sharpness of the blades, with no pressure and minimal effort, the food slides gently, quickly and easily from the blade without tearing or shredding or blocking to produce perfect results every time
- There is no need to apply any pressure while grating, making the grating job easy and fun and minimizing the risk of getting hurt, by slipping off the blade when applying too much pressure.

HOW TO ZEST CITRUS FRUITS EASILY

- Take the citrus fruit in your hand. Turn the sharp blades/teeth towards the fruit and gently slide along the surface of the fruit while turning the fruit constantly. This method gives you control and helps to not grate into the white bitter pith.
- The grated food is then collected on the backside of the grater.
- To get the zest off the blades, simply tap the grater or use finger or a spoon to slide the grated food off.
- We also recommend using organic untreated citrus fruits when zesting.

CHEESE GRATING MADE EASY FOR KIDS

- Simply place the block of cheese on the working space, then turn the grater around, the sharp blades facing the food and away from you.
- Gently slide over the food with the blades. The grated food is then captured on the backside of the grater to allow for better metering.
- This method of grating ensures for instance that children do not come in contact with the sharp blades since the sharp blades are only facing towards the food and not the fingers.

SECURE STORAGE

- Each Microplane product is equipped with a protective cover. Always ensure to place the cover over the blades when not in use.
- Then when stored in a drawer or cabinet, the fingers are protected from the sharp blades when reaching for it.
- Having the cover over the blades, also ensures that the blades maintain sharpness over a longer period since it minimizes the contact with other tools.

FLEXIBLE AND SECURE USAGE

- Each of our hand-held paddle graters is equipped with non-slip rubber feet. This allows you to safely maintain the proper angle and stability whilst grating food as safe grating on trays, in bowls and any different working surfaces.
- Better stability and comfort are guaranteed with the rubber foot.

CLEANING MADE EASY

- Straight after using the grater, tap off the food of the blades on a cutting board or any other working space.
- Then simply rinse under water and drip dry.
- This helps eliminating that food will dry onto the blade which will make it more difficult to clean later.

DISHWASHER SAFE

- All Microplane graters* are dishwasher safe.
- To ensure though that the blades stay sharp as long as possible, we do recommend washing them by hand.
- Please note that the protective covers that come with our products are not suitable for the dishwasher. Please always clean them by hand.

Except our Master-Series that has walnut handles that need to be hand wash only (but do not soak in water)*
